

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

Twelve Sisters for Lapwal. Father Cataldo, S. J., arrived here last night, where he has been for several weeks past. He is accompanied by his return by 12 Sisters of the Order of St. Joseph. In company with Father Cataldo they are on the Catholic mission and are on the Lapwal creek yesterday.

The mission at that place has been the charge of the St. Joseph for many years, there having been four members of the order there. When Father Cataldo returned to the Nez Perce mission, which was his original field of labor, it was nearly 40 years ago. It was determined that more assistance was needed in the field, and Father Cataldo made the trip east for the purpose of inducing more sisters to come.

It has been determined to make the mission on Lapwal a head or center of the missionary efforts of the sisters of this order. The mission on Lapwal creek, which has existed so many years, has always been singularly successful. It was started by Father Cataldo in the middle series, when he was stationed at Lewiston, and had just acquired a smattering of the Nez Perce language. —Lewiston Tribune.

New O. R. & N. Boat.

Information reaches the Lewiston Tribune that the O. R. & N. company was assembling material at Riparia for the construction of a new boat that will be placed on the Lewiston-Riparia run. No details are available at this time, other than that the boat will be built as rapidly as possible and will be completed and ready for service in 90 days; also that the new craft will be of lighter weight than the company boats now in service and will be especially adapted for the passenger service as well as being designed to conveniently run the river above Lewiston. With the new boat in service, it is explained, a run could be made from Lewiston and connections made with the afternoon eastbound train at Portland, while at present connection is made only with the night train out of Riparia. Further, the suggestion is thrown out that if the Lewiston-Riparia railroad is to be built during the next 12 months there will be more business on the river than is possible for the present fleet of boats to handle.

Made Up to Escape.

After calling him a vile name and shooting once at Matt Seymour, colored, John Collins, colored, late yesterday afternoon joined forces in an attempt to escape with the man he had attempted to kill, by shooting at him. The affair is one of the most peculiar that has come to the attention of the police for some time, as at the time the men were captured after the shooting they making tracks together and to all appearances were the best of friends. Neither would talk concerning the shooting.—Coeur d'Alene Press.

Negro in the Water Supply.

The dead body of Taylor Piles, a negro, was found in the reservoir of the city water company at 4 o'clock this afternoon by two men who were passing. He had been in the water since the night before. It is supposed he was out hunting a chicken roost and fell into the water. He was a well known character about this city. The water company immediately shut off the water and drained the reservoir as soon as the body was discovered.—North Yakima Republic.

Bankruptcy Proceedings.

A deputy United States marshal was in town yesterday from Portland and served the complaints in bankruptcy proceedings against A. P. Goss and R. H. Miller, brought by the depositors in the old Bank of Sumpter.—Sumpter Daily Miner.

Buying Cattle.

E. E. Turk, who is buying cattle for H. Y. Blackwell, was in town Tuesday. He accompanied Mr. Blackwell in the drive of a bunch of cattle to Pendleton and was on his return home.—Grant County Enterprise.

Gas at Lewiston.

The Lewiston Tribune says the gas plant proprietors at that place promise to have gas ready for consumption by the middle of next March, and that it shall not cost more than $2 per 1000 cubic feet.
